

This Education Pack for 11-14-year-olds was designed to be flexible and to enable you to explore the theme of online identity in a way that suits you, the learners and the time you have.

This pack contains:

Lesson plan

The aim of this 1 hour lesson plan is to help learners to consider the barriers experienced by some people which prevent them from expressing themselves freely online, and offer a range of strategies for working together to make the internet a more inclusive space for everyone.

Assembly presentation

This presentation is designed to take around 20 minutes to deliver messages around online identity to a larger group of learners. There is also a script for the assembly to guide you and help you deliver the key messages.

Quick activities

These are activities that will take between 5 and 10 minutes that can be used alone or to explore issues raised by the lesson and assembly in more depth.

Whole school/community activities

These packs offer a great opportunity opportunity for young people to deliver online safety messages within their community, whether it be their local area or their school. We have provided some ideas to help you facilitate this.

This pack can be used in different ways depending on how much time young people have to complete activities. The following table gives some ideas on how to use and adapt the different parts of the Education Pack.

| If you have time for... | Why not try....? | Using... |
|--|--|--|
| An assembly | Delivering the assembly presentation and using the questions to facilitate discussions. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Assembly presentation and accompanying script |
| Form/ registration time | Running a quick activity. You could choose a different quick activity to complete each day of the week. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Quick activities |
| A lesson | Delivering the lesson plan. There is also an option to extend this activity, according to the time available. Alternatively, you could combine several of the quick activities and the assembly into a lesson. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Lesson plan Quick activities Assembly presentation and accompanying script |
| A whole day or week of activities | Using the quick activities to introduce the topic of identity online and allow further time for discussion to delve a little deeper. Choose a selection of whole school/ community activities to promote the topic and encourage young people to create their own campaign for change, using the resources provided within the whole Education Pack. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Quick activities Whole school/community activities |
